LOCATE IT AT GAINESVILLE.

Under the above heading the following editorial appears in The Punta Gorda Herald, from the pen of Editor Jordan, who some years ago was a resident of Gainesville, and in his editorial capacity became familiar with the workings of the Seminary and the people of this city:

"Editorial references to the Buckman bill and its results made in previous issues of The Herald were written when it was not known what Gainesville wanted in place of the East Florida Seminary, which is abolished by the bill. Now that Gainesville has announced her preference for the State University, The Herald cordially endorses her claim and calls upon all South Florida to rally as one man to her support.

"Gainesville has everything in her favor—central location, easy access from all quarters of the State, excellent health, moral atmosphere, no barrooms or saloons, plenty of well-supported churches. Her people are united and are thoroughly imbued with the educational spirit and they are prepared and willing to offer any inducements within reason to secure the location of the University.

"They already have the buildings of the East Florida Seminary, which, with some comparatively inexpensive additions, will prove adequate for the purpose.

"A man can live better and cheaper in Gainesville than in any other town of the State. Their beef is equal to the best Chicago article and is sold for less than the best Florida in any other market. Vegetables, fruits, poultry, eggs and almost all other provisions retail for less there than in any other town in Florida. Board, therefore, is very low; and if the authorities should carry on a boarding department in connection with the University, the student could be fed and lodged for $10 a month.

"A paramount reason for locating the University at Gainesville is the warm, not to say enthusiastic support that would be given it in all quarters of the State by the hundreds of graduates of the East Florida Seminary, who are to be found in every town and city, who cherish a warm feeling for Gainesville and who, being men of standing and influence in the communities in which they reside, will exert an invaluable influence in behalf of the University.

"All this, to say nothing of the fact that South Florida, by reason of paying more than half the taxes of the State, is entitled as a matter of simple justice to have at least this one institution located in accordance with her wishes and interests.

"The Herald has no injurious reflection to make upon any other town in the State; in fact it knows nothing derogatory to any other aspirant. It urges the selection of Gainesville simply because it knows that city to be an ideal location for the University and because it is a matter of right and justice to South Florida.

"If it should be asked what is to be done with the buildings at Lake City, it may be answered that the State can put them to valuable use, but this is a question to be decided by the board of control, which, under the Buckman bill, will have plenary powers."

POOR HOPE FOR PEACE.

If President Roosevelt can promote peace between Russia and Japan no one will begrudge him the credit he will gain by helping to stop the terrific human slaughter which has characterized the Russo-Japanese war. There are many diplomats who believe all the President's efforts, however well intentioned, will come to naught, however. Count Cassini has outlined the position of Russia to a few chosen friends. He maintains that Russia has nothing more to lose. If she were to make peace now she would have to yield the neutrality of Manchuria, acknowledge Japan's suzerainty of Korea, grant the neutrality of Vladivostok and pay an enormous indemnity besides. If Russia continues to fight Japan may, in the course of time, drive her from Manchuria, capture Vladivostok and be in a position to insist on her suzerainty of Korea, but by the time all this has been accomplished by brute force, Japan's financial resources will have been exhausted and she will have to quit fighting without any indemnity whatever. Of course the humanitarian side of the argument has no force with Russia. Her moujiks, or peasants, are cheap and a few hundred thousand, more or less, are of no moment to the Czar and the war party which dominates his actions.

Count Cassini, for obvious reasons, does not state that Russia is afraid to quit fighting or to accept peace at the humiliating terms which Japan would prescribe. Russia, that is, her grand dukes, fear the officers who would return from Manchuria and Siberia, and perhaps the men. They have learned too much of the oligarchy which has furnished them cheap ammunition, worthless guns, rotten food, etc., and has grown rich by the transactions and the grand dukes appreciate that the coming home of the troops means their own doom.

TO OUR BUSINESS MEN.

We desire to call the attention of our business men to The Twice-a-Week Sun, which has a circulation of upwards of 1,800 copies in Alachua county, and to inform them that there is no better way to let the people know of their bargains than by placing an advertisement in its columns. The best results are sure to follow, and when you consider that the paper reaches these people twice every week, the rates are very reasonable.

The Sun will certainly pay anyone who has something to sell that the people want.

The demand for competing lines of railroads in Florida are being gratified every year, and the prospects of three roads to Miami will be sure of increasing the already lively aspect of that thriving city. No more enterprising business men are to be found in the State than are to be noticed hustling for trade through the advertising columns of its three daily papers.

If the Panama Commission would only start an order and admit the people to membership, we might all buy on the co-operative plan and avoid the tariff.

The reason Rojstvensky didn't send the usual "I regret to report that" message to the Czar, was that there were no blanks left to send them on.

The Georgia Railway Commission has decided to not cut the passenger fares, and the old rate will hold at three cents a mile.

Vice-President Fairbanks took just 17 minutes to thaw out when it came to opening the Portland Exposition.

The public officers all seem to be in a public trust. Cleveland's version has been misinterpreted.

GAINESVILLE AND THE STATE UNIVERSITY.

We agree with The Tampa Tribune that Gainesville is the place for the State University.—Levy County Advocate.

You people of Gainesville must stop looking sick and worrying over these things. You've got the town and with a little cold backbone you can get the State University.—Levy County Advocate.

Gainesville is early in the struggle to secure the State University and, if we except Pensacola, there is probably no better point in the State at which to locate that institution.—Pensacola Daily News.

A suggestion: Put the University at Gainesville, the insane asylum at Lake City, the negro normal and the girls' college at Tallahassee and the institute for the deaf, dumb and blind at Bartow.—Punta Gorda Herald.

The location of the new University and the Female College is a question of considerable interest in the State at present. Nearly every town of any size is endeavoring to secure the University. Gainesville is making special effort and is sending throughout the State a little folder giving five good reasons why Gainesville should be chosen, and there seems to be a good deal of sentiment in different parts of the State in favor of Gainesville.—Dunellon Advocate.

Gainesville is at present exemplifying her long established reputation for unity in educational matters. Her citizens are diligently at work—and they stand as one man—to secure the location of the University of Florida provided for in the Buckman bill passed by the last session of the Legislature. Because of her splendid religious and moral standing, her central and healthful location and her enthusiastic educational sentiment, Gainesville in her contest for the University has the high endorsement and best wishes of hundreds of the leading citizens of Florida, and if she shall win no one who is at all acquainted with the conditions can doubt that a long step has been taken toward the subservance of the best interests of the State in its educational matters.—Bradford County Telegraph.

The Chicago labor war is certainly giving a lot of worthless walking delegates a good living off the unions.

The Tampa fair is now the thing. Let all unite on making it worthy of the great State of Florida.

The watermelon season is now upon us, and farmers are hauling some fine ones to market.

The result looks as if Pensacola was dreaming of Bliss.

Therefore let you know that I shall recommend them to any one suffering from such troubles." Chas. H. Halpern, 12 E. 14th St., New York, N. Y.
